THE RAILROAD SURVEY.—Col Barry, the chief of the party who are surveying and exploring a route for a railroad through Oregon, called on us on Monday last and from a brief conversation with him, we gleaned the following interesting facts in relation to the progress of the work Col Barry has personally superintended the survey and exploration from the Siskiyou mountains to Dayton The proposed route is to pass through Bear Creek Valley in the county of Jackson, to cross Rogue river near the mouth of Butte creek, at what in Indian war times, was called "Headquarters," and from thence across the Umpqua mountains by what is known as the "Kearney trail," to the South Umpqua river, about fourteen miles east of the north mouth of the Umpqua Canyon. From there the route proceeds northward and strikes the stage route at Myrtle Creek, a short distance beyond Estis' At this point, the route goes through the Calapooya mountains a short distance to the west of the old Applegate road across the same, coming out on the north side of the mountains not far west of Cartwright's house Thence the line proposed follows down the Long Tom not far from the old traveled road to Dr Richardson's, thence straight across, a plain, easy country to Corvallis, Monmouth, and thence to Dayton

From Dayton, Col Barry is now engaged in surveying a route by Forest Grove, Tualatin Plains and Skappoose Plains to St Helens After that, he proposes to survey a route from Portland to Dayton, along the west side of the Willamette river, and mainly on the east side of the river hills. Of the route to Dayton from the southern line of the State, he estimates the cost at $22,000 per mile. He talks well, and made the impression upon our mind that he is doing his work thoroughly and at the least possible expense. We suggest that it would be proper for the Portland people to contribute a few hundred dollars to assist in making the survey between Portland and Dayton The party consists of eight or ten men and five or six horses. Col B. came to this coast about a year since, from Illinois where he represents he had been engaged in the business of railroading He will [illegible] along here in two or three weeks, and who will be the first to contribute a $10 or $20 and help in making up the few hundred dollars? [illegible] speak at once!

"THAT'S WHAT'S THE MATTER."—The Marysville Express of the 12th, having had a flea put in its ear, by a prompt and righteous act on the part of the Government, assumes some very queer positions, which like a balloon in mid air, find no ground to stand on What particular change in the character of our Government is found and referred to, we cannot divine, but presume it is because Democratic bludgeonism at the polls is about done away with The Express says

> It is time to begin to organize to organize in counties and election precincts to band together and swear, before high Heaven that every lawful and constitutional means shall be used to prevent the election to office of the crazed fanatics and conspirators against liberty that have deluged the country in blood and caused desolation and ruin to the happy homes of the people Democrats have peacefully submitted to every outrage during this Administration bearing both law and usurpation, but invested by the Constitution with the right to judge of the acts of their public servants they have not only a right to speak and write that judgment but to thunder it in the ears of usurpers through the ballot box To do this effectively there must be unity concert of action, bold and determined work Let it be understood that Democrats intend to vote at the next election, that they intend to support the men and the principles of their choice and let there be no weakening upon that point for the man who yields up his liberty without an attempt for their preservation, is a coward and unworthy to live other than a slave and a minion If necessary, in order to vindicate this right let Democrats arm themselves that they may repel force by force If defeated in the next election we can discharge our duty to ourselves, our country and to God as patriotism shall dictate

Is the foregoing written with the hope of arousing a spirit of [illegible] enthusiasm in the breasts of the Knights of the Golden Circle, to make them close up their ranks, and prepare for deadly work with their loyal neighbors? Does this style of article have anything to do with the present movements of the editor of the Express? Is it found necessary to tempt the Government with such bootless threats, if it does not mean the arming and equipping of a host of traitors on this coast? Never was more privilege granted to friends of the present Administration than to the vile traitors who malign every man and measure of the Union party The Administration has been too lenient and it is high time this blatant treason and threatening were stopped Secret organizations of the Union party are caused by those who believe it a righteous act to form associations for highway robbery, arson, pillage and murder Some of them require more justice and less liberty That's what's the matter

A Few Words about the University of Washington Territory

EDITOR OREGONIAN

Upon a late visit to Puget Sound your correspondent had the pleasure of attending the examination and other exercises of the University of Washington Territory and as this University is in its infancy and comparatively unknown a few facts of its history may interest your readers—which of them, at least, as reside in Washington Territory

The University is located at Seattle, on the waters of Puget Sound and owes its existence to the munificence of the General Government Its history in brief is this At the organization of Washington Territory in 1853 Congress reserved to the Territory for University purposes two townships of land (46,080 acres) to be selected under the direction of the Legislature

January 11th 1861, the Legislature located the University at Seattle, and appointed Daniel Bagley, John Webster and Edmund Carr to select and dispose of the University lands and to improve the ten acres donated for the site Hon A A Denny gave eight and a fraction acres and Judge Lander and C C Terry gave the remainder of the ten acres—the tract adjoining the town of Seattle and at that time a dense forest of fir trees Feb 22d, 1861 the Commissioners organized by electing Daniel Bagley President and in April following the first work was done, and as the Commissioners were forbidden to incur any debt the President personally borrowed twenty dollars with which to commence the work The lands have been nearly all sold and about $70 000 realized As, however these lands were simply reserved to the Territory and the Legislature had no power to sell them Congress at its late session passed an act ratifying and approving these sales

With the $70,000 the grounds have been grubbed and cleared off enclosed with neat railing, seeded to grass and otherwise improved by walks shade and ornamental trees, shrubs, flowers &c The buildings are frame and consist of the University building—a large and tasty structure 46x58 ft two stories—with belfry and observatory—divided into school rooms with a fine lecture hall 46x50 ; the President's house, a handsome building 30x50 ft, a boarding house 26x40 two stories with an L 26x48, together with a barn and out buildings, and the whole supplied with an abundance of fine water conducted over the grounds in pump logs These improvements cost about $40,000, leaving about $30 000 as an endowment fund which is loaned at from one to one and a half per cent per month, making an annual revenue for the support of the University of some $5 000 The school is under the charge of Prof Barnard the President—a ripe scholar and every way qualified for the position—assisted by Miss [illegible] a sister to Judge Boise, who, however, proposes soon to leave, much to the regret of all the friends of the University There are some thirty five scholars in attending

The institution is under the management of a Board of Regents elected by the Legislature, consisting of nine persons, Major James Tilton being President of the Board

The University owes its existence to all who interested themselves in its establishment, but is indebted mainly to Daniel Bagley, who put his shoulders to the wheels and has been the working man and to A A Denny Register of the Land Office at Olympia, without whose friendly aid in his official position, the University lands would never have been selected and sold But I am taxing your columns too freely, and will dismiss the subject with one or two additional observations

The University of Washington Territory is said to be the first Territorial University in the history of our country; and hence, the propriety of a Territory selling its school lands and establishing a University before it has population and resources sufficient to form a State is now to be tested in this Territory, and the experiment will be witnessed with lively interest by the friends of education. That such an Institution is somewhat in advance of the condition and present wants of our people may be admitted, and yet this fact need not prevent its establishment being a public blessing

In the matter of endowment, and in location, the Institution draws its first breath under favorable auspices There is perhaps no handsomer sheet of water in the world than Puget Sound, and no healthier and few prettier locations than Seattle Standing on the University grounds, which rise up gradually from the water's edge, the eye sweeps for miles up and down the Sound, fringed with a forest rich in primeval beauty, while in the distance is seen the Coast range of mountains, covered with eternal snow

The advantages of this University are already attracting families to Seattle, and the Institution, if wisely conducted, will make friends and will soon be the pride not only of Seattle but of Washington Territory

LINCOLN'S ACCEPTANCE.—The committee appointed by the National Convention at Baltimore to inform President Lincoln of his renomination, called at the White House on the 9th July. Gov. Dennison, President of the Convention, and chairman of the committee, then addressed the President as follows

MR PRESIDENT The National Convention which closed at Baltimore yesterday, appointed a committee consisting of one from each State, and myself as chairman, to inform you of your unanimous nomination by that Convention for President That committee, I have the honor to inform you, is present On its behalf I have the honor to present you with a copy of the resolutions or platform adopted by that Convention, as expressive of its sense and the sense of the country which it represents of the principles and policy that should characterize the Administration in the present condition of the country I need not say to you that the Convention, in thus unanimously nominating you, gave utterance to the almost universal voice of the people of the country To doubt your election would be little short of abandoning the hope of a final suppression of the rebellion and the restoration of the Government Neither the Convention nor those represented by that body entertained any doubt as to the final result under your administration, sustained by the loyal people and by our noble army and gallant navy Neither did the Convention, nor do this committee doubt the speedy suppression of this most wicked and unprovoked rebellion I would add, Mr President that it would be the pleasure of the committee to communicate to you within a few days, through one of its most accomplished members, Mr Curtis, by letter, at more length, the circumstances under which you have been placed by the nomination for the Presidency

REPLY OF THE PRESIDENT

The President said Mr Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee—I will neither conceal my gratification nor restrain the expression of my gratitude, that the Union people through their Convention, in the continued effort to save and advance the Nation, have deemed me not unworthy to remain in my present position I know no reason to doubt that I shall accept the nomination tendered and yet, perhaps, I should not declare definitely before reading and considering what is called the platform I will say now, however that I approve the declaration in favor of so amending the Constitution as to prohibit slavery throughout the Nation When the people in revolt with the hundred days explicit notice that they could within those days resume their allegiance without the overthrow of their institutions and that they could not resume it afterward elected to stand out such an amendment to the Constitution as now proposed, became a fitting and necessary conclusion for the success of the Union cause Such alone can meet and cover all cavils I now perceive its importance and embrace it. In the joint names of Liberty and Union let us labor to give it legal form and practical effect

At the conclusion of the President's speech, all of the Committee shook him cordially by the hand and offered their personal congratulations

"RALLY ROUND THE FLAG BOYS"—The following is from a battle field letter

During one of those eventful nights when the troops lay in line of battle behind their temporary fortifications of dirt logs and rails and the continuous crack of the sharpshooters rifle rolled along our front a solitary voice struck up the stirring song, "Rally round the flag boys" and almost instantly thousands of men who seemed to have been waiting for something to dissipate the gloom which thoughts of the day's carnage had engendered, were shouting in a chorus which [illegible] the depth of the forest gloom

The Union forever hurrah boys hurrah!
Down with the traitors and up with the stars,
&c &c

As down the line it went the refrain swelled in one vast roar exultant triumph and [illegible] defiance to the wary rebels who [illegible] the spiteful whiz of extra balls [illegible] their skirmish line, while firing but already [illegible]

Interesting Letter from the Snake Indian Expedition

We are permitted to publish the following letter to headquarters from the command of the Snake Indian Expedition, and believe it will be read with much interest

EXPEDITION [illegible] THE INDIAN COUNTRY [illegible]
CAMP No [illegible] HARNEY VALLEY July [illegible]

SIR—I have the honor to report that the expedition left Camp Maury June 7th 1864 and arrived in Harney Valley at Big Meadows June 13th I effected a junction with Capt George B Currey [illegible] in Fort Walla Walla yesterday July [illegible] I [illegible] about [illegible] miles north of Lake Harney On my arrival at Big Meadows I ascertained by [illegible] that Capt Currey had not arrived at Lake Harney and that no animal could [illegible] at the lake on account of water and grass the lake water being salt and the grass very [illegible] the north [illegible] the eastern [illegible] in the expectation of [illegible] in the vicinity [illegible] June 27th I [illegible] 10 miles [illegible] Harney [illegible] at once started an express to him and [illegible] junction is also stated

I have been [illegible] during the time employed at his vicinity to explore the country thoroughly and am [illegible] there are no Indians in the vicinity No signs of any could be found except a few camps that have been abandoned at least two months [illegible] I think the valley is [illegible] perhaps 20 or 30 [illegible] winter [illegible] but they do not [illegible] during the summer

The affair between Lieut Waymire and the Indians occurred at the east [illegible] about 40 miles south east of Lake Harney in the vicinity of Captain Currey's present depot [illegible] to believe that the Indians abandoned the country immediately after that affair

From prospectors emigrants from California and other [illegible] I learn that the Indians [illegible] in the vicinity of Goose Lake and have committed some depredations [illegible] A party of prospectors who fitted out at The Dalles in April last and traveled with the expedition for some days after starting, came to our camp last night having had two men wounded by Indians somewhere near Goose Lake

There is a large emigration from Northern California and Southern Oregon through this section of the country to Boise and Owyhee. Quite a number of families are reported to be on the road and an immense quantity of stock Large droves of cattle are seen almost daily crossing Harney valley. This emigration enters Harney valley by two routes, one from Shasta, Cal traverses Pitt river valley to Goose Lake passing along the Lake of Lake Abert, thence across a sage desert 90 miles in extent intersecting the military road at Pleasanton's Butte, the other from Yreka Cal, and Jacksonville, Oregon via Lower Klamath Lake and Silver Lake across a sage desert 72 miles in extent intersects the military road at Spring valley 25 miles south of Camp Maury a branch from this point leads to Canyon City, in a north-east direction—I could not ascertain the distance These trails have become great public thoroughfares this summer but I do not think they can be made available for purposes of transportation, on account of the wide extent of desert to be traversed I have been informed by some miners that the route by Goose Lake can be improved by changing its course slightly to the west, thus shortening the desert to stretches of about 30 miles each The Yreka route is not capable of being improved in that respect

I think I am safe in stating that no practicable route can be found in anything like a direct course from Diamond Peak to Lake Harney, on account of this immense desert

Lieutenant Waymire can avoid the desert by making a circuit to the north and intersecting the military road at Buck Creek, 30 miles south of Camp Maury

I have found the country over which the expedition have marched, thus far, to be generally unfit for any purposes but grazing, and a large portion of it is desert, this is particularly the case with Harney Valley, not more than one tenth of which is fit for any useful purpose whatever

I am, very respectfully,
Your most ob't servant,
(Signed) JNO M. DRAKE,
Capt 1st Oregon Cav ,
Commanding

FROM LEWISTON.—The Age of last Saturday, 23d, contains a valedictory to the citizens of Lewiston, and announces that the next number, commencing the third volume, will issue from Boise City. From the last number we clip the following:

A large number of miners are in town, bonding for Kootenai Several parties have arrived during the last week giving the report about the same as heretofore published—good diggings, and prospects of being extensive

Road agents are making their appearance near Lewiston The Sheriff has made arrangements to nab three of them known as George Goodwin, H Wilson and George Brown It is supposed they are from Nevada via Boise The Age is in favor of the law when it is not a laggard but suggests that prompt punishment of that class of offenders might be beneficial to the community and entirely unobjectionable to the tax payers

Twelve hundred dollars had arrived from Idaho county, as a contribution to the Sanitary Fund

The trail from Boise to Lewiston is said to be one of the best in the country.

A man named Adam Bonner, formerly of Pittsburg Pa, committed suicide on the night of the 16th at Lewiston, by cutting his throat with a razor

BOISE ITEMS.—From the Boise News of the 16th, we glean the following items

Holladay & Co 's stages up to day before yesterday morning had not arrived at Boise city from Salt Lake, since the agent's private conveyance brought the first mailing

The Gambrinus Ledge, which worked by an arrastra yielded from three hundred to eight hundred dollars per ton, is to have machinery at once The ledge is rendered accessible by sluicing and promises to be the best in the basin

A negro concert for the benefit of the new Church, netted $125 50 leaving a debt of $3 100

No Postmaster's commission has arrived either at this place or Boise city

In the matter of the killing of Wash Smith the coroner's jury held an inquest upon the body, and brought in a verdict of accidental killing on the part of Scofield while defending his own person against the violence of the deceased

The rock of Castor Ledge on Moore's Creek, assays from $153 93 to $665 97 per ton

The District Court Judge A C Smith, was in session

OVERLAND IMMIGRATION.—We are indebted to a gentleman in this city for the following extract from a letter written by Thos Carter, Esq , and dated at Chimney Rock, June 21st, 1864

"There is the largest emigration on the road this year that ever crossed the Plains At least 10 000 wagons by this route alone—North Platte bound for Idaho, Nevada California and Oregon The number is as great by South Platte it is supposed A correct estimate cannot be formed of the number bound for the Pacific coast A great many fine horses and mules are going to California and other points I hope to be at Independence Rock by the 4th of July and in the Boise mines with my train by the 1st of August"

FROM SALEM.—The Statesman of Monday furnishes the following

Mr Ehrenburger who was burned out in Salem on Saturday, has already commenced building a new market on the site of the old one

The [illegible] California Stage Company in Salem has been [illegible] the Bradley House

Mr Fowly late of the Mansion House was somewhat injured on Saturday last by being thrown from a wagon [illegible] wheel passing over his right breast another over his right hip The wagon was heavily loaded

We noticed a man riding a steer through town on Saturday [illegible] Rather a novel mode of conveyance, we should say

APPOINTMENTS.—Hon [illegible] L Cole writes to the Walla Walla Statesman that Mr Waterman of Washington [illegible] Superintendent of Indian Affairs of Washington Territory and left New York on the [illegible] of the 13th inst Father Wilbur [illegible] has been prevailed upon, by Senator Nesmith and himself, to accept the post of Agent at the Yakima Reservation Mr C speaks in high terms of Mr Wilbur and says he accepted the position with great reluctance

GOVERNOR JOHNSON ACCEPTS.—We make the following notice of Governor Johnson's speech at Nashville accepting the nomination for the Vice Presidency

The speech amounted to about the same as a letter of acceptance The Governor declared that as the honor had been conferred upon him unsolicited he should the more highly appreciate it and should not decline

For the first time in Tennessee this occasion witnessed a political speech addressed to the black man In one part of his speech he addressed himself directly to some negroes in the crowd telling them that they had been [illegible] free and that they were now admitted into the broad field of competition where they could exist only by their own individual efforts as industrious and useful working men He told them that freedom meant the liberty to work and to enjoy the fruits of their labor, and advised them that if they were not industrious and economical, they would have to give way to their superiors in that respect In five they were placed upon an equal footing with the white man and a fair start with him in the race of life He wanted it accepted rewarded without regard to color In emancipating the slaves, many a white man of the laboring class would be emancipated He was for the white man and white man's government, and for breaking up the internal aristocracy based upon slave labor by destroying and abolishing slavery In this doing a great act of justice the slave we are destroying a great evil in the aristocracy which has [illegible] the South with [illegible]

On the subject of the restoration of the State to the Union and its prosperity and civil law he declared that [illegible] the few who had been loyal to the exclusion of all who had fought for the rebellion [illegible] in any influence The amnesty oath he [illegible] and he would not trust any man who had taken it He announced it as his opinion that if there were only 5,000 men in the State loyal to the country and the Constitution the control of the affairs in Tennessee ought to be left alone to them He wanted to see traitors subjected to even severer tests than foreigners who seek to be naturalized Treason was the quintessence of crimes and should be made odious and the traitors punished and their leaders hung

In the restoration and reorganization of the State he hoped to see the iniquitous system of slavery abolished It had been a curse to the State, entailing upon it untold woes and miseries, and had shed innocent blood until the State was filled with orphans and widows In setting up again, leave out that curse and stand forth a free State

He invited the Yankees to make here their home, and to make Tennessee what they had by their industry, skill and invention made Massachusetts

THE RUSSIAN AMERICAN TELEGRAPH.—After industrious and persistent lobbying and a great deal of debate the Collins bill to establish a telegraph line between Russian Asia and the United States has passed the Senate through sadly shorn of its fair proportions As it now stands the bill is more by a great reason for the company to build the line than in which forty acres of land for each fifteen miles of line built is granted and the Navy Department is authorized to allow the company the use of a steamer or sailing vessel for surveying purposes on the Pacific coast—Wash Cor Sac Union

The want of a Select Family Boarding School for Boys between the ages of eight and sixteen years, has doubtless been felt by many anxious and intelligent parents in Oregon The experience of the last session of nine months has fully justified the confident hope that Trinity School would commend itself to the approbation and secure the patronage of parents seeking a good Christian family School for their sons

The pupils are under the immediate care of the Principal he is their companion their teacher and friend The location is very healthy, and sufficiently remote from the pernicious influence of street association

PILFERING.—Considerable complaint is made on account of a band of thieving Indians camped in the vicinity of the brick yard in the southern part of this city. Clothes lines have been "cleaned out in a very delicate manner—leaving all of no value Hen roosts have been entered and robbed In fact, from who we can learn, there is a regular nest of midnight plunderers in that quarter A private watch has been detailed, made up by the citizens to guard their homesteads If these Indians have no business there and there is any way to get rid of them, it should be done They are a nuisance to the entire community, as well as a great trouble to some of the inhabitants of the city Indians slightly (?) inebriated can be seen prowling about our streets at a late hour They are certain to try and behave themselves while on the public streets where there is any danger of detection, but when once out of danger where they can partake of their "fire water" without fear or trembling who can tell where their next deeds of trickery may be perpetrated?

THE FAIR LAST NIGHT.—We were present for a short time at the Ladies' Sanitary Festival, last evening The tables were loaded with the many delicacies of the season—including cakes and ice cream all of which was presided over by the patriotic ladies whose pleasant "good evening" was irresistible to the purchase of some trinket. Notwithstanding we having visited nearly every whole sale establishment last Friday, to make out a correct market report the feature of the evening was the entertaining of the audience by the melodious and always patriotic voice of Mr A B Richardson, who disposed of the fine flower pots and pound cake at advantageous prices

ALL ABOUT A SQUAW.—Two hombres each claiming a title to a female aborigines, met [illegible] on the Willamette and came very near having a naval engagement on account of the aforesaid property But they finally reached the shore without coming to actual hostilities One of the parties, however procured a gun and threatened to kill his antagonist unless he would return his truant "love" —for which conduct he was arrested and will have a hearing before the Recorder this morning at 9 o'clock, A M

U S DISTRICT COURT.—A special term of the United States District Court, Hon M P Deady, presiding, was held yesterday The case of the United States vs the steamer Nereus, for a violation of the navigation laws was heard and tried E W McGraw, Esq appearing for the Government, and Hon L F Grover for Wm M Sutherland claimant, Hon Lansing Stout for J R Fleming claimant. The Court took the case under advisement.

TREASURE.—Mr West, Wells, Fargo & Co's Express messenger, brought $30,000 in gold dust as express freight from the Northern mines Besides, there was a large amount in the hands of passengers We can not doubt but this country is the richest in the strongest sense of the word

THE GENERAL RUSH.—The Macadamized road is certainly the most popular and pleasant one to drive over in the State This can be easily attested from the fact that last evening a cortege of some seventeen carriages and buggies were [illegible] the terminus of the road [illegible] and no wonder that all—ladies [illegible] joy the trip The refreshment [illegible] tained, and the pleasant mo[illegible] nates for all

STRANGE QUADRUPED.—Quite a [illegible] were assembled in front of a ce[illegible] city, to witness the strange fr[illegible] er, captured in the Boise co[illegible] ever seen a badger, but from the [illegible] "Sinbad the sailor" had [illegible] this animal (if a badger) a [illegible]

WARM.—It is a notorious fact that "The Weather" has been a much used theme with Local items, and we hate it! But when it [illegible] weather—comes to a point where the [illegible] at 90° in the shade it is high [illegible] cool, refreshing and solita[illegible] plenty, and heat a stranger [illegible] people must have the "Local [illegible] know of no other way than—work, work [illegible]

A GOOD SWIM.—"Leander swam the Hellespont," but two typos from this office, took it into their heads to swim the Willamette river the other evening and selected for that purpose the widest part of the stream opposite Brooklyn Ferry landing,—making a distance little short of two miles inside of forty five minutes They took a [illegible] before they came ashore!

LARGE MAILS.—The stage brought in an unusually large mail for this city last evening No doubt, many were cheered by glad tidings from friends at home Others perhaps have received news that father, brother, or friend has been slain in defending the flag of their country—but all are glad the mail has come

RETURNING.—A number of excursionists who repaired to the sea beach last week—of which we gave notice—returned last evening on the steamer Cutch They all look well and hearty Clams and the fresh, unadulterated sea breeze must assuredly agree with them, as they looked hale, healthy and hearty!

FOR YAQUINA BAY.—The steamer Pioneer is being fitted up to leave here in a few days for Yaquina bay She is to be permanently engaged there to run as a packet, connecting that harbor with the Corvallis wagon road If the weather "outside" is favorable, we may soon expect to hear of the first trip

FRUIT.—We notice from the appearance of the fruit stands in our city, that fruit—such as apples pears, plums and peaches, are ripening fast, and we predict that soon the market will be over supplied

SAD ACCIDENT.—A man named Godfrey, who, while cutting timber on the east side of the river, yesterday slipped and fell, inflicting a severe wound in his leg The man was brought to this city and is now in the Shakespeare Hotel.

EASTERN PAPERS.—We are under obligations to S J McCormick, of the Franklin Book Store for files of late eastern papers received by the stage last night.

PASSENGERS.—Seventy five passengers arrived on the Wilson G Hunt last evening

DOWN AGAIN.—The overland telegraph line is down again hence we have no later eastern news

SCENE ON A BATTLE FIELD.—The correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial with Sherman's army, gives the following picture of a field of battle, and the dead picket.

I have just rode over that portion of the battle field where the 20th corps repulsed the enemy yesterday and the sight presented is enough to make the heart of one long accustomed to war, ache The ambulance corps so complete in all its details, is gathering in the wounded, and the groans of the sufferers is grating to the ear All the rebel dead and wounded are left in our hands to be cared for The ground is thickly strewn with the victims in about equal proportions, excepting at those places where desperate charges were made upon our line, when the enemy came out of his breastworks there the rebels largely predominate There, within a few yards of me a wounded rebel is stopping the blood that endeavors to make its exit through a ghastly grape wound in the leg of a Union soldier, while over yonder, beneath an oak a wounded Federal is in the act of giving water from his canteen to an enemy who fell beside him, and whose life-blood tinctures the garments of both After the shock of battle has passed the helpless inhabitants of the rifle pits and trenches are no longer enemies A common sympathy seems to inspire them, and they are once more friends and brothers—children of one Father

THE GENERAL RUSH.—The Macadamised road seems to be the most popular and pleasant one to drive on in the State. This can be substantiated from the fact that last evening a cortege of some [illegible] carriages and buggies were counted at the end of the road. Mental Depression.—It has often been remarked that no one can minister to a mind diseased; but a mind diseased is frequently only the consequence of a disordered digestion, and naturally finds relief when the process of nutrition is restored to a healthful state. The PERUVIAN SYRUP removes the morbid condition of the stomach, quickens the circulation, increases the insensible perspiration, and consequently relieves the mind from the causes of its depression.

"A Slight Cold," Coughs.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "slight cold" in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give sure and almost immediate relief. Military Officers and Soldiers should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket and taken as occasion requires.

REDINGTON & Co., San Francisco, Agents for the Pacific Coast.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—These Bitters are universally acknowledged to be a sure preventive and cure for Fever and Ague, Flatulence, Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like affection. Their effect upon the system is most miraculous; they give a healthy tone to the system; relieve all morbid matter, and in fact thoroughly cleanse the system of all impurities. In no case has it been known to fail, but on the contrary, new virtues have been found in its use. To those afflicted with any of the above ills of the body, the "Bitters" are offered as a speedy and certain cure. Try them and form your own opinion.—Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere. je26d1m

Periodical Headache—so common in uncleared and marshy countries, Tic Douloureux, that most painful affection of the nerves of the face, are often only attacks of ague in disguise—proceeding from the same noxious influence. Jaundice, Dyspepsia and Diarrhea, are frequently but disguised forms of Intermittent Fever. Even Rheumatism and Epilepsy, often result from the same miasmal cause. For such, Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue is an unfailing remedy. By striking at the root of these affections, it applies with equal certainty, as for the cure of Fever and Ague in its simplest forms.

Imitations are abroad! Be particular to enquire for Dr. Osgood's India Cholagogue. Sold everywhere.

GRANT AND MCCLELLAN.—The difference between a great general and a [illegible] was probably never more [illegible] illustrated than in an incident of the first battle fought between Grant and Lee. At its close Grant found himself in great danger of having his line of communication cut. What [illegible] he do, fall back and give up a strong position to secure his safety [illegible]? Not at all. [illegible] the grand object for which he had placed himself in danger. He seems to have comprehended that his undertaking necessarily involved peril, and hence was [illegible] by it from [illegible] what he had gone to fight for. So, instead of backing out and retreating as a timid or inefficient general would have done under the circumstances, he presses right on with his eyes fixed upon what was before him, and indifferent about what was behind.

What another general of different calibre did under similar circumstances is shown in the case of McClellan upon the peninsula. When he had his line of communication—his base of operations, cut off, he appeared to be totally disconcerted. He could think of nothing, and do nothing except to look out for another "base." So anxious was he about his "base," that he forgot all about Richmond, which he had gone hundreds of miles to capture. Richmond he did not think was his "base," and hence he turned and struck for Harrison's Landing. He did not take Richmond—he did not defeat the enemy, but—he "changed his base." He lost thousands of good men and fought great battles, all to secure his "base." One would almost suppose, from McClellan's operations, that he had gone into the enemy's country to look out for nothing but a "base." Richmond was a small circumstance compared with a "base." Richmond was not taken, but a "base" was attained, and a great victory was claimed in consequence, and there are those who call him a great general and want to make him President on account of it.

Grant had a very different opinion about a "base." He was not fighting for a "base," and Lee found that he had a very different sort of an antagonist to deal with. He was not one of the base kind of generals. He had gone into the fight to secure something else, and so that he gets Richmond, he is perfectly willing to let Lee have his "base."—Missouri Democrat.

A TRUE PATRIOT.—Says the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial:

A few weeks since I wrote of a man who did not want an office. Now I have a still more startling fact to announce—a man who holds an office under the Government, works hard, and won't take any pay for it! The rara avis is Mr. Whiting, Solicitor of the War Department, and the case, as related to me by an intimate friend of his, is as follows:—About two years ago, Secretary Stanton wrote to Mr. Whiting, whom he had known well and favorably as a lawyer for many years, at his home in Massachusetts, informed him that he was about to create the office of the Solicitor of the War Department and tendered him the position, at a salary of $5 000 a year. I believe, Mr. Whiting replied that he would be glad to serve the Government in the capacity named, and would accept the office upon one condition, that he receive no pay or emoluments of any kind, and have the privilege of bearing his own expenses at the capital. This was finally, though reluctantly, acceded to by Mr. Stanton, and Mr. Whiting left his palatial home in New England, and took up his abode in Washington city. Not content with refusing to receive compensation himself, he drew up an instrument in writing and filed it in the War Department, stipulating that in case of his death while here, his family should not be entitled to one dollar for the services he may have rendered. Mr. Whiting is a rich man, and can afford to do all he has magnanimously agreed to; but it must be remembered there are hundreds of others equally rich, and who could equally well afford it, who would hesitate for a long time before accepting such a non remunerative berth.

FORT POINT AND ITS CONFEDERATE BOMB SHELLS.—On visiting Fort Point, yesterday, Gen. McDowell ordered a half dozen shells to be fired in the direction of Lime Point, as a test of the reliability of the munitions used at the Fort. The order was complied with, and each one of the shells exploded within a few feet of the muzzles of the pieces! Capt. Stewart is in command at this Fort. He was a Capt. under Sydney Johnston, when he had charge of the Fort, before he was supplanted by Gen. Sumner, and is well known to have declared that he would never "fire upon the Confederate flag," and that he "would rather be a Second Lieutenant fighting Indians, than a Major General in the Federal army, fighting against the Confederates." With such an officer to defend the passage of the Golden Gate against rebel pirates, no wonder the shells were defective! Perhaps the round shot and the powder in the magazines at Fort Point would bear a critical examination. An investigation by Gen. McDowell would be worthy his attention.—American Flag, July 14th.

JOHN C. FREMONT.—The Mariposa Gazette, published in the county where John C. Fremont resided for some time, passes upon his claims for the Presidency as follows:

In accepting the nomination of the Cleveland Copperheads John C. Fremont took occasion to attack Lincoln for his extravagance and his financial incapacity. When it is remembered that Fremont was never given to pay what he owed even with all his "Las Mariposas," and that many of his private debts have recently been bought up here at thirty cents on the dollar, it may set people to questioning the propriety of this voluntary attack on Lincoln. Fremont doubtless possesses many excellent traits—has lived on mule meat—rode a wooly horse—managed the "Hundred Days" campaign, and has been once defeated for President; but when he criticises the financial abilities of others he might well reflect upon his own capacity in that line. Whatever he and some of his deluded followers may think, it is quite clear that the voice of the people will be that Fremont possesses more ambition than genius—more love for glory than real patriotism—and that with all his professed attachment for the Government he prefers his own advancement to its material prosperity. His action with reference to the Cleveland Convention has demonstrated his unbounded selfishness, spleen and vanity. His late conduct has afforded abundant grounds for questioning both his ability and his patriotism.

THREE YEARS.—Three years ago yesterday, an ordinance of secession forced Tennessee into a position of hostility to the Government. What promises of prosperity, security, and plenty were promised to the people on that day! And now, look at the realization! The State has been one continued scene of bloodshed and suffering, its industry has been paralyzed, and scarce a household but has been made to mourn the loss of one of its inmates. What is Tennessee to-day? and what would it have been had its people been contented to remain in allegiance to the Government of the United States? Verily transgression bringeth in its wake most terrible punishment.—Nashville Union, June 2[illegible]

THE DIFFERENCE.—A lady walking with her husband on the beach inquired of him the difference between the exportation and transportation? "Why, my dear," replied he, "if you were on board yonder vessel you would be exported, and I should be transported."

THE BAPTISTS AND PRESIDENT LINCOLN.—To-day (May 28th) a delegation consisting of the Rev. Dr. [illegible], Senator Doolittle and A. H. [illegible] waited upon President Lincoln and presented him with a series of resolutions adopted by the American Baptist Home Mission Society at its session recently held in Philadelphia. [illegible] President Lincoln [illegible] express the warmest wishes [illegible] the welfare of the country. The presentation was made in the [illegible] Room by Dr. Bride in the presence of about one hundred persons.

President Lincoln, in reply, spoke as follows: [illegible] the present very respectable [illegible] I am engaged [illegible] supports [illegible] the country. I have [illegible] been so frequently [illegible] that I have [illegible]. This particular body [illegible] the [illegible] citizens I have [illegible] therefore beg [illegible] opportunity to make a short response in writing.

The President then, after giving each [illegible] cordial hand-shaking as they passed before him, retired.

CANTEEN.—The word canteen has a curious history. It [illegible] language which originally English [illegible] foreign [illegible] and was after [illegible] back [illegible] form. As originally spoken [illegible] it was simply [illegible] but [illegible] went [illegible] pronouncing [illegible] brought [illegible] as canteen [illegible] pronounced [illegible] English [illegible] took back his own original word in a new shape without [illegible] and hence we now say canteen instead of tin can.

Whenever we utter a true word instantly we feel 'tis God's, not ours.

It is well known that the medicinal effects of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air, and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron without further oxidation has been deemed impossible.

In the Peruvian Syrup this desirable point is attained by COMBINATION IN A WAY BEFORE UNKNOWN, and this solution may replace all the proto-carbonates, citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica.

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY of modern chemistry, and it is impossible to overestimate its influence as a remedial agent. Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica, and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation, it remained almost useless until Dr. Henry Anders, a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment, discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve without a solvent. This, considered impossible by the scientific world, is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr. J. R. Chilton of this city and Dr. Booth, U. S. Mint, Philadelphia. The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals, and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 6, 1856, page 70).

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc.

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patients become fleshy, their [illegible] hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, become full, strong and florid.

Full directions accompany each bottle.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle. Prepared by Dr. H. Anders & Co., Physicians and Chemists, New York.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE REMEDY upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is alterative, purifying and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its controlling and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutricious blood, and nutritious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of dyspepsia desire [illegible] and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre, and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution which has yet been invented or discovered is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility from whatever cause arising may be cured, strength, in whatever manner it may have been wasted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A word to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters,

As an invigorant and restorative immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females

Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which the sex they are subject. It cheers and enlivens the depressed mental powers, as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step, his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom of an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.
